How do I go solar without upfront costs?

There are three main ways to go solar without any upfront costs - solar loans, and solar leases or power purchase agreements, also known as PPAs. Solar energy systems are an expensive investment, which is why about 85% of all solar system installations are financed. The zero-down option with the most financial upside is a solar loan.

Should I buy or lease a solar system?

Solar leasing offers low or no upfront costs, system maintenance by the provider, and predictable monthly payments. Buying provides potential tax incentives, and full ownership, which can increase home value. How much can I expect to potentially save when leasing with a Sunrun Subscription?

What is solar leasing vs buying?

Solar leasing is a financing option where you pay a monthly fee to use a solar panel system installed on your home, but the solar company owns and maintains the equipment. You benefit from the solar energy produced without the upfront cost of purchasing the system. What are the benefits of solar leasing vs. buying?

Should you buy a solar system with no down payment?

Although the idea of having no down payment is appealing - especially for big-ticket purchases like cars or solar panels - it's important to understand the overall financial commitment you're making before spending tens of thousands of dollars on a solar system that you'll rely on for more than two decades.
